The story of Monies began in 1973 when Gerda and Nikolai Monies met at a school for goldsmiths. They have been partners in business and life ever since.

The distinct oversized jewellery is the work of Gerda and Nikolai. They have developed their own unique style throughout the years. Every piece of jewellery is regarded as a sculpture. In the designs, there is no room for modesty, instead, they are committed to bring out the full potential of the material's inherent qualities. This leads to jewellery that radiates a dramatic beauty of art, craft and nature. The jewellery designed by Gerda and Nikolai are very sculptural and have a beautiful and complete form. It is a piece of art radiating tranquillity with a touch of magic.

Nature is the guiding light in their work. Each piece of bone, horn, stone or any other natural material has been given its own unique quality by nature's hand. The art of their craft is to bring those colours, textures, and shapes together in a synthesis of drama and individuality.

MONIES produces two lines of jewellery. The first line is designed by Gerda and Nikolai at the workshop in Copenhagen and then produced abroad, every piece is handmade. Every year, two new collections are designed with approximately 100/200 new models per season.

The second line is called MONIES Unique. Every single piece of jewellery is designed and handcrafted by Gerda and Nikolai personally in the workshop in Copenhagen meaning that every piece is a one-of-a-kind.

MONIES jewellery is available all over Europe, in the United States, and in the Middle and Far East. Today Gerda and Nikolai have expanded their business in Europe. Besides already being represented with their own shop in Copenhagen, Paris, Zurich and Istanbul they are also represented in Milan and in the heart of Rome.

Throughout the years, Gerda and Nikolai have worked with some of the most famous Fashion Houses like Chanel, Donna Karan and Christian Lacroix.
